

LionHeart Consulting's- One Day Workshop Struggle is Unnecessary for Business Success

Transformation Starts with One Powerful Step

We struggle from time to time in our business. It's normal.....but unnecessary. We bet you too sometimes struggle with situations and events you don't like and wish were different. Things like: people missing commitments, too much to do and not enough time to get it done, difficult conversations you don't know how to have, or financial results below what you expected or desire.

As a result of learning about, testing, and trusting our deeper wisdom over a 25 year search, we discovered a set of tools that transform struggle into effectiveness and freedom ...over and over...regardless of the circumstances. We want to teach them to you so you can turn your biggest obstacles into the raw material for your professional growth, financial success, and personal fulfillment.

LionHeart's clients consistently experience these benefits:

- Greater awareness about what holds them back
- A shift from overwhelm and confusion to clarity about what really matters
- Reduced stress and more energy
- Greater ease with difficult conversations
- An experience of freedom and creativity
- Business results beyond what they imagined possible

In this One Day Workshop you will:

- Learn 5 Principles that move you from 'struggle' to 'loving your work'
- Experiment with a personal method to access your own inner wisdom whenever needed to gain the clarity and courage to overcome what stops you
- Experience empowering coaching to resolve an issue that matters to you

This workshop has helped people from all walks of life and business: real estate agents, mortgage brokers, CPA's, engineers, business owners and senior executives, construction managers, marketing directors, salespeople, health professionals, office managers, and more.

Here's what a few past participants had to say about their experience:

"Finally, a seminar that provides a clear way to look at problems and get unstuck! In just one day, I was able to look at a problem I'd been struggling with for months, and find a clear solution."

Arleen McClean, Work Smarter, Inc.

"In the LionHeart one-day workshop, it was like turning the cube to another side. I move from seeing very few options to a view full of possibilities and a new sense of freedom. I no longer feel stuck!"
